

Laser Games – 31 October 2009

LaserQuest is a live, interactive game similar to "paintball" where players get to wear what we call a "pack", which sort of resembles a parachute harness that slips on over the shoulders.

A laser gun is used by a player to "shoot" at other players and the system is software driven. A computer keeps track of who shoots who and adds and subtracts points accordingly.

The game is played inside an "arena" which is supposed to resemble a movie set and has lots of hiding places, ramps and catwalks.

Completely safe and harmless !
